HOME IS WHERE THE 'HOPE' IS

AmeriCorps volunteers from Red Five Team work Friday to build a 1,200 square-foot addition to the new Hope Haven Children's Shelter in Waveland. The volunteers have been working on the home for about a week.

Hope Haven's new house almost done

 The "Red Five" team of AmeriCorps National Civilian Community Corps volunteers have done an amazing amount of work in the last week on their current project, Hope Haven's new safe house in Waveland. The team of thirteen young men and women have gutted the old part of the house for remodeling and almost completely framed and closed in the new, 1,200 sq. ft. addition. Their spokesman, Ben Fritz of New York, says that the team plans to have most of the major work before their departure on July 6. "The work is progressing much faster than anticipated and we plan to have the dry

Alleged baby-killer's taped confession to be used at trial

BY ED LEPOMA

 John Henry Seeling's taped confession can be used in his upcoming capital murder trial. Seeling, 32, appeared Thursday before Circuit Court Judge Kosta Vlahos with his court-appointed defense attorney Harry Ward. Ward contended Seeling's confession was coerced out of him by overzealous Sheriff's deputies, and his taped confession should not be admitted into evidence at his upcoming trial in September. Vlahos denied the motion. The same judge earlier this month denied Ward's motion to move the trial out of

Controversial plan to build at Cedar Point gets state approval

BY ED LEPOMA
Staff Writer
 A controversial plan to fill in some marshland and build homes in Cedar Point has new life. Last week, the state Commission on Marine Resources, approved developer Ivan Mandich's plans to build 33 homes on a 25.8-acre site. The development is proposed between North Beach Boulevard and Blakemore Streets. The latest plans would require filling in 4.5 acres of wetlands, and the developer plans to preserve 9.4 acres of wetlands. CMR approval was needed to allow the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to study the development, but most Cedar Point residents remain opposed to the subdivision. Some want the city of Bay St. Louis to purchase the property for a nature park. Originally, Mandich proposed 57 homes, then 42, but the staff of the DMR rejected both of those proposals and told him to scale down the project.

Work crews are almost finished installing a huge, new drainage culvert on the beach road at Cedar Point. Traffic is being temporarily detoured during the construction.

Waveland approves 'vicious dog' plan

Chaining animals also to be outlawed

BY BENNIE WEDGWOOD
Staff Writer

Waveland Aldermen voted unanimously Wednesday to pass what was called the Dangerous Animal Control Ordinance. In reality the ordinance contained in the 13-page document also covered such issues as nuisance animals, abused and neglected animals, a ban on all chaining and tethering, a ban on giving away or selling animals in public places, and owner responsibility.

Curtis Quate, Director of the Waveland Animal Shelter said he was "on cloud nine." "There are only about ten cities in the country with animal ordinances as progressive as these," said Quate.

Ordinance #8, which pertained to the ban of pitt bulls was dropped from the document. There will be no breed specific bans. Ordinances will pertain to all domestic animals.

Fireworks banned in Waveland

BY BENNIE WEDGWOOD

Even if you do go to one of the fireworks stands in the county to buy your fireworks, you will still not be able to use them in the City of Waveland said Chief David Garcia of the Waveland Fire Department.

"Unless we have a good rain of about four-to-five inches right before the Fourth the ban will be continued through the holiday also," Garcia said. "Anyone violating the ban will be ticketed ... with the drought conditions there is a great danger of catching the pine needles, especially on roofs on fire and we just can't take a chance."

Garcia said that even though there has been rain, atmos-

Hancock County praised for floodplain enforcement

BY ED LEPOMA

Federal and Mississippi Emergency Management Administration officials had high praise for Hancock County's management of flood plain regulations.

"The community's permits represent the most extensive permitting system in place along the Mississippi Coast," according to a report received recently by Willie Gavney, the county's chief building inspector and zoning enforcement officer.

Robert L. Durrin and Mary Roundtree from the FEMA office in Atlanta and Al W. Goodman Jr. from the MEMA office in Jackson visited Gavney's office over a two-day period last August checking out compliance with flood plain regulations.

They found: "The community has an excellent standard operating procedure for the issuance of permits," according to the report.

The procedure in place requires that anyone building or putting a temporary structure in the county's flood-prone areas get two elevation certificates—the first based on construction plans and the second based on completion.

Hancock County also has an agreement with Coast Electric and Mississippi Power not to hook up electricity without a certificate of compliance from the permitting office.

The officials also praised the forms and placards on display in the zoning office, which takes citizens through the steps necessary in the permitting process.

And, the officials added: "Mr. Gavney has perhaps the most organized filing system for his permits that were inspected in 1998-99."

Library's Great Books group to meet

Poetry by Derek Walcott from the Clashes of Culture series will be the selection to be discussed at the Great Books discussion group meeting on Wednesday, June 28, at 7 p.m. in the Seal Meeting Room of the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library.

Sponsored by the Hancock County Library System, the discussion group began in March, 1990. Since that time, they have completed 110 readings from great books (Plato, Hobbes, Locke, deTocqueville), Mississippi fiction, play readings and 20 philosophical questions. The group meets every other Wednesday at 7 p.m.

The Great Books Foundation was established in 1947 by University of Chicago Chancellor Robert Maynard Hutchins. Its mission is to provide people of all ages, backgrounds and walks of life with the opportunity to read, discuss and learn from outstanding works of literature.

Today, more than 20,000 adults are members of Great Books discussion groups, and nearly one million students participate in Junior Great Books groups for grades kindergarten through 12.

Every year Great Books Foundation instructors lead seminars in the shared inquiry discussion method for more than 15,000 teachers, parent volunteers and book group participants nationwide.

In publishing the 50th anniversary series this year, the Great Books Foundation carries on its tradition of offering a search for understanding that goes to the real purpose of education: the lifelong education of the mind.

Anyone is welcome to attend the meetings. The only requirement is that you read the selection before the meeting. For information, call Jeanne Jones at 467-5282.

Host families sought for exchange students

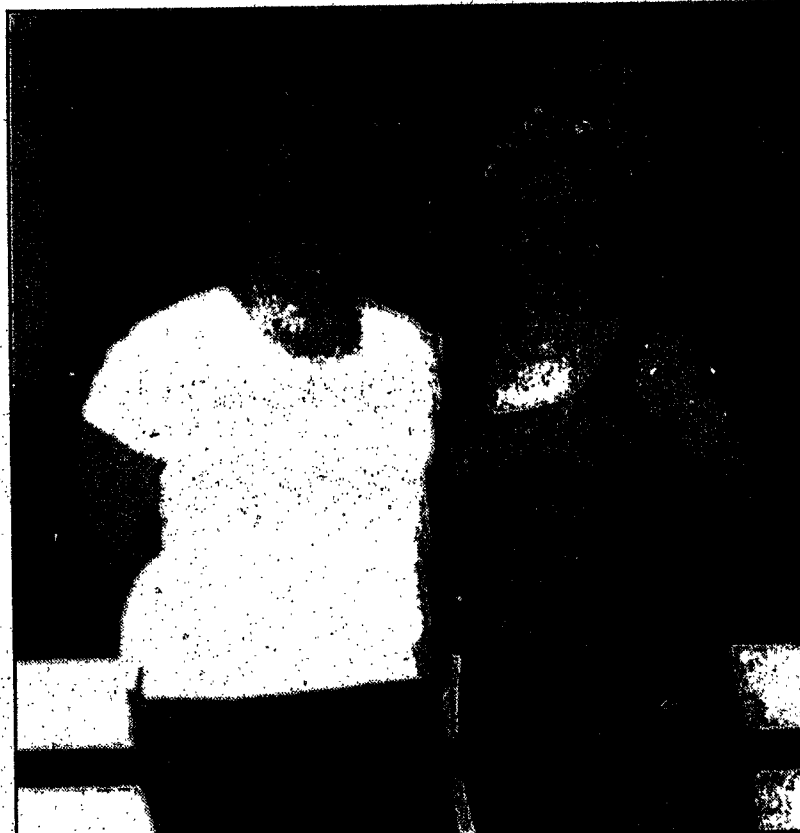

The American Intercultural Student Exchange, a non-profit educational foundation, is seeking local host families for high school foreign exchange students for the 2000/01 school year.

AISE's students come from 25 countries throughout the world, and the program continues to expand. Every year, AISE places exchange students with over two thousand host families throughout the United States.

The students live with American families and attend local high schools during their 10 month cultural exchange experiences. Host families provide these young ambassadors with a place to sleep, meals, and a family atmosphere in which to live. AISE students are eager to learn about our government, history, and customs, while at the same time leaving a lasting impression of their cultures in the minds and hearts of their American host families and peers.

"CUEVAS" QUOTES

By Ellis C. Cuevas

This year many will have really a long weekend for the celebration of July 4th since it is on a Tuesday.

Since Tuesdays are big work days for us at The Echo, we really have to make several adjustments with scheduling, as July 4 is one of our annual holidays.

We want to remind our customers that we will have to move all of our advertising deadlines back to Monday, 11 a.m. for the Wednesday, July 5 EXTRA and 4 p.m. Monday, for the Thursday, July 6 Echo.

It is hoped that this does not inconvenience any of our customers.

The long weekend activities along the Coast begin on Friday with the opening day of the 52nd Mississippi Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo.

This year the Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo will span some five full days of activities at the Rice Pavilion in Gulfport.

The rodeo will end at midnight on July 4.

A big fireworks display is set for Tuesday at 9 p.m. with the boat drawing at 10 p.m. Who knows, I may be the lucky winner.

I know that Russell Elliott and John Auderer have been busy selling raffle tickets for the boat, motor and trailer.

Among the entertainers scheduled for the fishing rodeo are, from our area, The Pat Murphy Band at 8 p.m. on Saturday, and on July 4 at 8 p.m., Garland Moran and The Knights.

We will be giving you more information as the rodeo day nears.

Thursday evening marks the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce June Business After Hours to be held 5 to 7 p.m. at Hancock Bank's Bay office, 601 Highway 90, Bay St. Louis.

Sponsors are Hancock Bank, Hancock Investment Services, Hancock Insurance Agency, Hancock Mortgage Corporation and Harrison Finance Company.

I always look forward to a Hancock Bank After Hours, because they go all out with the hors d'oeuvres and refreshments.

As always, admission is two business cards, and the event is open to chamber members and guests.

I hope to see you at the Business After Hours Thursday, June 29, from 5 to 7 p.m.

It was good to receive the overview from the recent Legislative Session by Representative J.P. Compretta and Senator Scottie Cuevas at the chamber's Coffee Call held this past Tuesday.

A lot of the things which happen in Jackson have a bearing on us here in Hancock County and neighboring counties.

J.P. and Scottie did a fine job in explaining many of the bills which were discussed and passed during the 120-day Legislative Session.

Both did comment on how the majority of the leadership positions in the Legislature go to representatives and senators residing above Highway 80 in Mississippi.

The coastal area is growing probably faster than, or at least as fast as any other section of the state, and we really need more key positions to be filled from the southern portion in the Legislature.

I guess we are going to have to get a governor and lieutenant governor from below Highway 80 to possibly help change the leadership at the capital.

I am sure the majority of the state's revenues come from below Highway 80, so we really need equal representation.

Only time will tell.

Refreshing Olde Towne

Dear Editor:

When I walk around Olde Towne, I'm impressed with the ever increasing bus loads of tourists and enthusiastic merchants, but I wonder what is the tourist's "first impression?"

When they are embarking from their buses, the tourists are usually looking down, and periodically, while they are walking around the streets, dirt, sand, butts, gravel, gutters, sidewalks, and weeds, need to be addressed.

Some noteworthy merchants have their own beautification programs, while others are staffing up, but what is needed is a general effort by the City.

I've been hearing for some time now that their "studies" are underway or completed, but as anyone can see, it's all rhetoric. Hello! It's summer! Please, Mayor Favre, use your leadership, along with the assistance of the employees of the Department of Public Works and the support from the Olde Towne Merchants Association to implement now a much needed, inexpensive, superficial refreshment of the Olde Towne area.

What is needed:

- Start with a street sweeper to clean the gutters and remove the gravel, sand, etc. from the streets

- "Round-Up" to kill all those weeds that are in the cracks

- Paint the lines manually with a roller over existing lines in the street and curb parking - at least do Main Street - who knows when "the study" for Olde Towne parking, etc. will be implemented.

- A pressure washer: Start a program to remove the mildew and mold from the sidewalks, curbs, walls, signs, and buildings.

The aforementioned list would make Olde Towne even more impressive and welcoming. We only have one chance to make a "first impression." Why wait? A long July 4th weekend lies ahead.

Proud to live in Olde Towne, Ed Reardon Bay St. Louis

P.S.: Please, let's not procrastinate or put this on the back burner. I'm willing to roll up my sleeves and help. Any other volunteers out there? How about a Blitz?

Vets' promised health care not available in some areas

To the Editor:

For many years, recruiters and career counselors promised us that: "Health care is provided to you and your family... for the rest of your life if you serve a minimum of 20 years... to earn your retirement."

Many of us based our career decisions on those promises. Now, due to budget cuts, the military has closed many health-care facilities and many, still open, refuse to accept retirees.

The civilian HMO-type care provided is so poorly funded that health-care providers in some areas refuse to accept us. Brave men, and women who defended our nation with blood, sweat and tears are dying because promised health care is no longer available.

Senate Bill S-2003 and House Bill HR-2966/HR-3573, if passed, would correct this injustice.

(All are titled: "Keep Our Promise to Military Retirees.")

S-2003 has 33 co-sponsors and HR-3573 has 301 co-sponsors; however, those who control the flow of legislation through congress have turned the bills into bipartisan politics and refuse to allow these bills out of committee.

Please contact your senators and representatives in Washington and urge them to pass these bills.

Telephone, toll-free: (877) 778-9001 or (877) 762-8762 and ask to be connected to your senator's office.

Call again for your other senator and again for your representative.

Thank you.

FROM THE SENATE

By U.S. Senator
Trent Lott

The census home stretch

A few months ago, Congressman Bennie Thompson joined me in the Senate Recording Studio to produce a public service announcement urging that all Mississippians respond to Census 2000.

Though the two of us have very different political views, our state has a lot riding on this count - things that have nothing to do with politics, and everything to do with you and your family's future.

Census response in our state has improved, but we've got a long way to go during the census home stretch if this count is to have a positive effect on Mississippians.

You've heard how a Mississippi Congressional seat is on the line. However, the census will hit closer home, impacting your child's school environment, your commute to work, your health and your pocketbook.

The Census Wrap-Up: Through July 7, census workers may be seen in your community, double checking their work, and visiting remaining residences. In fact, each member of the Mississippi delegation joined me in signing a letter to Census Director Kenneth Previtt, asking him again to make every possible effort to count all Mississippians, before Census 2000 numbers are made official.

We specifically asked the Census Bureau to provide Mississippi's local officials with opportunities for a final check of block-by-block housing unit counts - a locally-driven initiative ensuring that no addresses have been missed, which was policy during the 1990 Census, but was not mandated for Census 2000.

This is important because the census' impact spreads much further than Washington, Jackson or the county seat.

The Census and Education: Census data determines where your children will go to school, because census information is used to draw school district boundaries. It helps determine state and local government budgets - governments which have the lead role in establishing schools, funding them, and ultimately teaching our children.

Census data also impacts educational services for people with disabilities, and assists in directing resources to children and adults with limited English language skills, which is a growing concern as Mississippi's naturalized population grows.

The Census and Transportation: Census data is used to forecast future transportation needs. It helps determine where new roads are built, which roads will be improved, and what areas will have the greatest needs.

In my view, Mississippi's transportation needs have been neglected for decades. Today, I am working with the legislative process to make sure that changes. Projects like the construction of a new interstate through Mississippi - I-69 - and new road and bridge projects throughout our state are high on my agenda.

However, depending on Mississippi's participation in the census effort, Census 2000 will either help, or hurt, this effort to bring better transportation and more jobs into Mississippi.

The Census and Job Creation: Good transportation is essential to job creation, but the census itself has even more direct implications on our economic well-being. Census data helps determine the location of factory sites and distribution centers.

It leads to updated publications that chronicle economic development patterns in our state, which companies use to decide where to put new industries.

Also, the census helps companies access consumer demands and plan product development.

The Census and Your Health: Census information may also be used to determine where hospitals, clinics, nursing home and other health services are needed.

This is especially important to many rural Mississippians, who are concerned about hospital closures.

Census data may even determine the likelihood of communicable disease outbreaks and assist with the focus of medical research.

The census also leads to better maps which guide emergency personnel along rural Mississippi roads. Additionally the census may be used in urban planning, rural development, public safety strategies and even with establishing fair market rents, and enforcing fair lending practices within your community.

If census workers come to your door, take a moment to reflect: though a function of our federal government, the census is not about politics, it is about your community and your family's well being.

Camps help youngsters get on the 'write track'

The University of Southern Mississippi is calling all budding young Hemingways and Faulkners to its Young Writers Camps June 19-30 and July 10-21.

The camps, co-sponsored with the South Mississippi Writing Project and the Mississippi Writing-Thinking Institute, are designed to improve the writing of youths in grades 5-12 beyond the traditional confines of graded papers and red ink.

The program also aims to encourage students' love affair with words.

USM's Young Writers Camps stress the philosophy that great writers are not born, but taught - and that students learn to write by writing often, about topics they find interesting.

The camps are divided into two sections. Section A, "Come Write With Us," runs June 19-30 and offers students entering grades 5-7 an opportunity to write for their own enjoyment while being guided by a teacher, Cheryl Foster. Foster has more than 12 years teaching experience and currently teaches at Oak Grove Elementary.

Section B, "Relax and Learn to Write Despite Years of Red Ink," runs July 10-21 and is a relaxed-yet-structured experience designed to help students entering grades 9-12 develop an enjoyment of writing by finding their own topics and their own ways of writing about them. Foster also teaches Section B.

The fee is $150 per student for each 15-student camp.

For more information, call USM Continuing Education at (601) 266-4186.

Hancock Human Resource Agency Girl Scouts honored by United Way

United Way of South Mississippi (UWSM) has named Hancock Human Resource Agency and the Gulf Pines Council Girl Scouts as its Small Agency of the Year and Large Agency of the Year, respectively.

Lora Mederos, Hancock HRA's executive director, received the award plaque and a $1,000 check from Owen Holmes, UWSM's vice president for Community Building, during the organization's recent annual meeting.

The local United Way funds the agency's Child Development Center and Senior Citizens Services programs.

"Our relationship with this agency has been an outstanding example of private and public non-profits working together for the benefit of our community," Holmes said.

"Hancock Human Resource Agency, under the leadership of Lora Mederos, has fully participated in the life of UWSM," said Holmes. "By keeping us informed of the rapidly changing funding patterns for the programs of this agency, Lora has made it possible for United Way to quickly respond and work with them to ensure the viability of the programs in Hancock County.

Holmes praised Mederos for her service with the UWSM Agency Relations Redesign Committee, representing the agency sector, and for hosting the 1999 meetings of emergency assistance providers in Hancock County. Mederos has helped United Way identify and include all appropriate participants in this community building effort.

Kitty Reid Mauffray, executive director, received the Large Agency of the Year plaque and check on behalf of the Gulf Pines Council.

"Gulf Pines Girl Scouts has been a strong supporter of this United Way and the other four United Ways that fund its programs in 21 southern Mississippi counties," Holmes said. "Within our three counties, they serve 3,871 girls and 948 adult members. Our allocation to them represents only four percent of their budget, and our return-on-investment is priceless.

"Girl Scouting has been a pioneer in developing non-traditional programs to serve more at-risk youths.

Forty-two percent of the total membership of the Gulf Pines Council is served through in-school programs," said Holmes. "In addition, there are 199 traditional Girl Scout troops in Harrison, Hancock and Pearl River counties."

The Gulf Pines Council has been active in UWSM's annual campaign, agency meetings and special events. They also received the 1996 Large Agency of the Year award.

United Way of South Mississippi provides funding to the programs of 42 human service agencies in the counties of Hancock, Harrison and Pearl River.

All animals must also be provided with adequate shelter to provide shade and protect them from the weather.

All of the above ordinances carry with them progressively stiff fines for repeat offenders and the right of the animal control officer to confiscate and hold the animal until a court date. If, at that time, the judge rules in favor of the animal control officers findings the owner of the animal will also be responsible for all costs incurred by the city for confiscating, housing and caring for the animal. Further, the judge may take measures to prevent the recurrence of the violation, including removing the animal permanently from the owner.

There will be a complete ban on the selling or giving away of animals on public property.

Breeders will be required to register and hold a license with the city and must comply with all local ordinances, state and federal ordinances governing the running of a business.

Owners of a dangerous animal must post clearly visible warning signs which use a universal symbol for danger so that young children may be warned. The owner will also be required to maintain an insurance policy of liability of $15,000 or more or a surety bond of the same amount on the animal.

StingRays depending on vets, Purvis and Hooks

BY DWAYNE BREMER

For wide receiver Don Purvis and defensive end Antonio Hooks, the Gulf Coast StingRays offer a venue for them to continue with their professional careers.

"Don and Antonio bring leadership and experience to our team. It's like having two extra coaches" said head coach Matt Karl.

Purvis is a 6'2, 200 lb receiver from Miami, Florida. He played college football at Rhodes College in Memphis, Tenn.

Purvis then spent two years in Europe playing football. The first season Purvis played in the European League, and last year he played for the Frankfurt Galaxy of NFL Europe. He was a retained player by the Miami Dolphins.

In his stint with the Galaxy, Purvis scored six touchdowns. Purvis then moved to the Gulf Coast. Not wishing to retire from football, Purvis will play for the StingRays.

"Don is not the fastest guy, but he has really good moves, and runs his routes very well. He will be an important guy in our offense" Karl said. Purvis is excited to be playing with the StingRays and for former Detroit Lions player Amos Flower.

"It's a lot of fun. Having Amos as our offensive coach has made a world of difference. Amos brings a strong work ethic, and professional knowledge to our team. I'm glad to be a part of this" Purvis said.

Antonio Hooks is a 5'11, 295 lb defensive end from Harrison Central High School. Hooks went on to play at Gulf Coast Community College, and then played at Delta State. Hooks football.

"I'm overwhelmed with excitement. I love our coaches, and we have great intensity. I'm really going to enjoy this season and this team" Hooks said.

The StingRays are proud to announce that they will hold a special Pre-Season game against the Memphis Samurais on July 15th.

The game will be played at Hancock High School at 3:00pm. This game is not a part of the season ticket package.

Admission will be $3.00. "This game will be a good test for us to see where we stand" Karl said.

The StingRays will start their regular season on July 29th when they travel to Baton Rouge.

The first StingRay home game will be on August 5th. Home games will be played at St. Stanislaus field, and admission is $6.00.

The StingRays also invite everyone out to their open practices. The StingRays practice on Tuesday and Wednesday from 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. and on Saturdays from 4:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

Investment rules you won't want to break

Second in a two-part series

Last week's article looked at general investment guidelines.

To achieve financial security throughout life, you don't have to be born rich — although that would help. And you don't have to be a financial genius — although that would help, too. So what do you need? You need to avoid breaking some specific rules of investing.

Let's examine a few of them:

- Don't ignore asset allocation — You've no doubt heard about the importance of diversification in investing. And it's true that proper diversification is essential to investment success. But just how, exactly, should you diversify?

One proven diversification strategy is called asset allocation. To follow this technique, you need to systematically spread your dollars among an array of investment vehicles — stocks, bonds, mutual funds and other securities — to create a portfolio that matches your tolerance for risk, your time horizon and your overall investment goals.

A qualified investment representative can help you determine which mix is appropriate for your individual situation.

- Don't chase last year's "hot" stock or mutual fund — By the time you get around to buying a "hot" stock or fund, it may already be cooling off.

- Don't try to "time" the market — If you knew when the market's peaks and valleys were going to occur, you'd quickly become rich. But you don't have this knowledge — and neither does anyone else.

Instead of trying to time your buy-and-sell decisions with the cycles of the market, you'd be much better off by making regular purchases in those investments that you believe have a solid, long-term future.

- Don't take your profits too early, and don't wait to cut your losses — These are really two sides of the same coin. Too many people are satisfied to sell their stock or mutual fund shares on any sort of "uptick." Had they stuck with their investment for the long term, they might have ended up doing much better.

Conversely, some investors never want to unload a stock, even if it has lost money consistently and its prospects are dim. Instead of waiting for a turnaround, these investors could be using the money for a more promising opportunity.

- Don't overlook the need for investment income — As the stock market has exploded over the past few years, many investors have focused only on achieving as much growth of capital as possible.

Sooner or later, you also will need your investments to provide you with income. And when that happens, you might want to consider high-quality bonds, which can help preserve capital and provide you with a current income stream.

If you're in a high tax bracket, you may want to receive your income from tax-exempt municipal bonds.

Ultimately, there are no short cuts to investment success. That's why you need patience, discipline — and the willingness to follow some tried-and-true investment rules.

NOTICE OF THE AVAILABILITY OF AN ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT

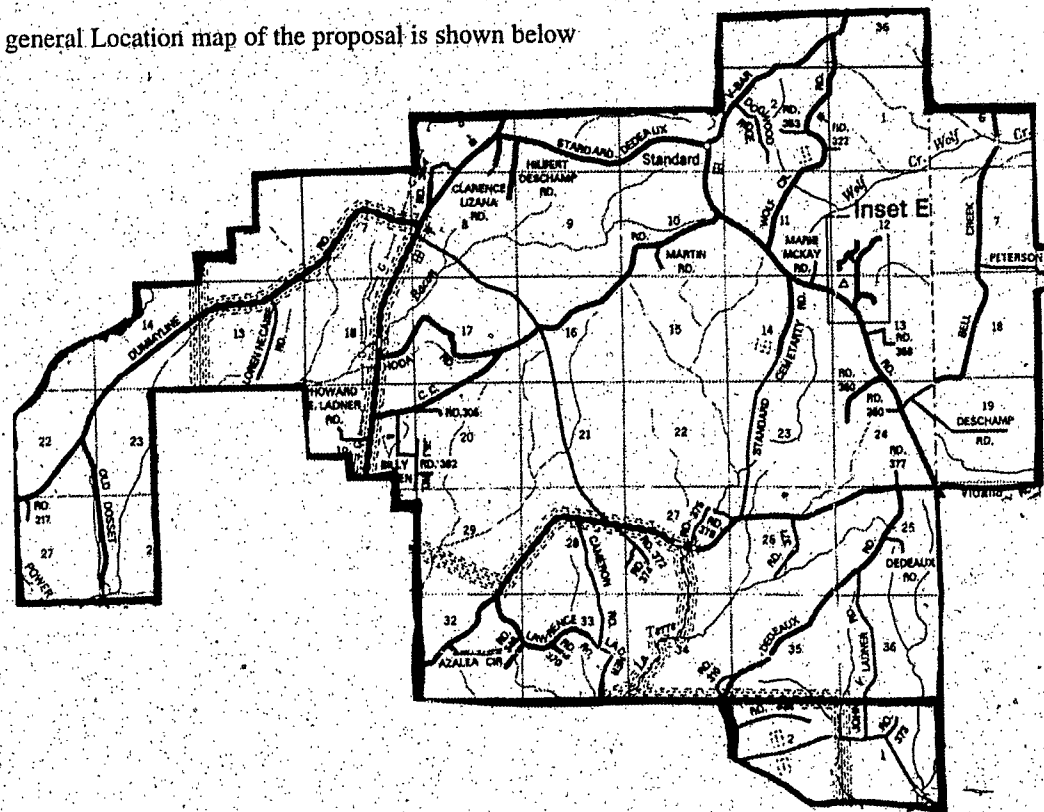

The USDA, Rural Utilities Service has received an application for financial assistance from Standard Dedeaux Water Association. As required by the National Environmental Policy Act, rural Utilities Service has prepared an Environmental Assessment that evaluated the potential environmental effects and consequences of the proposed project. This notice announces the availability of the Environmental Assessment for public review and comment.

The proposed project is intended to provide a clean, safe and sanitary water supply to the households of the area. The project area will cover the Northeast and Central part of Hancock County and part of the upper Northwest Harrison County. The proposed project will include the conversion of 1.5 acres of land from the necessary well and tanks.

Alternatives to the proposed project include only not to construct the water system. However, without the proposed project, the existing residents will continue to rely upon individual water wells. Most of these wells produce water of poor quality. The proposed community water system will provide a better source of fire protection which can be utilized by the local voluntary fire department. "Filler-valves" will be installed in the area to fill fire department tanker trucks in events of emergency.

Copies of the Environmental Assessment are available for review at U.S. Department of Agriculture, Rural Development, 132 Mayfair Rd., Suite C, Hattiesburg MS 39402. For further information contact Robert W. Windham, Rural Development Specialist, at 601-261-3293. Any Person interested in commenting on this proposed project should submit comments to the address above by 7/22/00.

New Tourism Advisory Council created

The Mississippi Department of Economic and Community Development (MDECD) has formed an Advisory Council on Tourism (ACT). This council, called ACT for Mississippi, has 11 members and will meet quarterly to provide information to the Tourism Division so that courses of action can be determined in an objective fashion with input from the industry.

The 11 members of ACT for Mississippi will be made up of two representatives from the following associations: Mississippi Restaurant Association, Mississippi Hotel Motel Association, Mississippi Gaming Association, Mississippi Tourism Association, one for a three-year term and one for a two-year term. The other three members will be appointed by the MDECD Director of Tourism Development.

Industry leaders that have been named to serve include: Jeff Good, co-owner of the restaurant Bravo in Jackson; Robert St. John of Hattiesburg's Purple Parrot Restaurant; Gaines P. Sturdivant, of Jackson, the president of MMI Hotel Group.

Also, Harry (Skip) Ledbetter, of Holiday Inns Gulf Coast; Andy Bourland, executive director of the Mississippi Gaming Association; Steve Rosen of Gulfport, senior VP of marketing for The Grand Casinos; Linda Butler, executive director of the Tupelo Convention and Visitors Bureau; Ray Phillips, director of sales for Sam's Town Hotel and Gambling Hall, Tunica County.

And, Webster Franklin, executive director of the Tunica County Convention and Visitors Bureau; Beau Whittington of Jackson, president of Convention Display Services, Inc.; and Emy Bullard-Wilkinson, executive director of the Corinth Area Tourism Promotion Council.

"The council is a win-win partnership between the hospitality industry and the government," said I.C. Burns, MDECD's executive director. "The members will have the opportunity to participate in discussions concerning long- and short-term strategic planning, marketing, research needs and other significant topics relating to the Mississippi tourism industry."

"This should provide a fair representation by geography and industry," said Darlene Wilson, MDECD's director of tourism. "In my opinion, this will go a long way in saying to the industry that we plan to listen before we make decisions."

The MDECD Division of Tourism Development is responsible for increasing the revenues, taxes, and direct jobs generated by business and leisure travel to Mississippi resulting in the enhancement of the quality of life and economic vitality of the state.

Components of this program include planning and conducting programs to promote and market Mississippi's attractions and existing tourism enterprises; offering services to communities and organizations; working to unify the state's tourism industry, responding to inquiries, and operating the state's welcome centers and the Mississippi Film Office.

Mississippi Market kicks off early registration

Created by the Mississippi Department of Economic and Community Development (MDECD) to give Mississippi businesses exclusive exposure to buyers inside and outside the state, the Mississippi Market is the venue for Mississippi-based businesses to exhibit and make onsite sales.

Exhibition in Mississippi Market is open to manufacturers, wholesalers, service providers, craftsmen and home-based businesses. Registration before July 1 is $200 and increases to $300 after the July 1 early registration deadline. Retailers are invited to attend

AD VALOREM ADVERTISEMENT

The Hancock County School District will hold a public hearing on its proposed school district budget for fiscal year 2000-2001 on June 27, 2000 at 5:30 p.m. at the office of the Superintendent. At this meeting a proposed ad valorem tax effort increase shall be considered.

The Hancock County School District is now operating with projected total budget revenue of $24,274,000. 32.77% or $7,955,400 of such revenue is obtained through ad valorem taxes. For the next fiscal year, the proposed budget has total projected revenue of $25,381,000. Of that amount, 34.60% or $8,782,000, is proposed to be financed through a total ad valorem tax levy.

For the next fiscal year, the Hancock County School District plans to decrease Ad valorem tax millage rate by .46 mill from 50.95 mills to 50.49 mills.

This decrease in ad valorem tax revenue means that you will pay less in Hancock County School District Ad valorem taxes on your home automobile tag, utilities, business fixtures and equipment and rental real estate property.

Any citizen of the Hancock County School District is invited to attend this public hearing on the proposed ad valorem tax increase, and will be allowed to speak for a reasonable amount of time and offer tangible evidence before any vote is taken.

Killer -- Seeling

Hancock County because of the publicity the case has received. Last December, Seeling pleaded not guilty in the beating death of 5 1/2 month-old Draven L. Archer.

On the taped confession, which was heard by a Grand Jury that indicted Seeling with one count of capital murder last July, Seeling told Hancock County Chief Deputy Nathan Hoda and investigator Kenny Hurt that the baby was crying and he kept shaking her in an attempt to stop her from crying. He said he threw the baby to the floor, then picked her up and slammed her against the wall. He also told the deputies he loved the child and was sorry for what he had done, and he asked the family for forgiveness.

Seeling had recently moved in with Sheree L. Archer in Kiln, and was baby-sitting the child the night before Memorial Day in 1999 while Archer took another daughter to see her father in Bayside Park.

Seeling is being held without bond in the Hancock County Justice Facility.

Assistant District Attorney Chris Schmidt said he should come to trial the first week of September.

Harrison panel approves Pecan Grove expansion

BY ED LEPOMA
Staff Writer

By a 4-2 vote, the Harrison County Wastewater and Solid Waste District has voted to allow a 100-acre expansion of the controversial Pecan Grove Landfill.

The decision came after a volatile meeting Thursday night. It was seen as a setback to citizens who live by the dump off Menge Avenue in north Harrison County and by environmentalists who have waged a two-year war to close the dump.

Waste Management had filed a $51 million lawsuit against the county when the Board of Supervisors refused to help it get a permit for the expansion.

The firm warned residents the landfill would close by next October if it was not allowed to expand. Opponents charged the landfill filled up earlier than was estimated because Waste Management began hauling in household garbage from New Orleans.

They also wanted the dump closed on grounds it was an environmental hazard, it decreased nearby property values and brought in heavy truck traffic through developing neighborhoods.

The District had proposed siting another landfill in woodlands on the border of Harrison and Stone Counties, but citizens groups in that area quickly rallied and announced they would file suit to stop it.

Another alternative was to have Waste Management close the landfill this fall and haul Harrison's garbage to a landfill in Alabama, but that would have increased monthly residential and commercial garbage fees.

Diamondhead elects Officers, directors

BY ED LEPOMA
Staff Writer

Diamond Country Club and Property Owners Association elected Richard K. Weber Saturday as its new president.

Other officers elected include Bob Marshall, vice president, and Bill Taylor, treasurer. Secretary Pat Outlaw was unopposed. The officers serve two-years terms.

Amanda Monti, daughter of Kathleen and Joe Monti of Bay St. Louis, was the recipient of the American Legion Award presented by Bill Taylor at Our Lady Academy eighth grade promotion ceremony.

"I don't like it (the expansion) any more than anybody else," said Biloxi Mayor A.J. Holloway, who made the motion to allow the expansion. "I don't see any alternative."

If the state Department of Environmental Quality grants the permit, estimates are it would take about 18 months to construct the new cell for garbage.

Voting with Holloway were: Gulfport Mayor Bob Short, Harrison County Supervisor Connie Rockoo and d'Iberville city manager Alan Santa Cruz. Pass Christian Mayor Billy McDonald, whose city limits are outside the landfill area, voted no, along with Long Beach Alderman Jimmy Levens.

OLA teacher presented service award

Mary Alice Benvenuti, English teacher at Our Lady Academy, on May 27 was presented the first Catherine McAuley Service Award for her distinguished service to Our Lady Academy and to Catholic education at an Alumnae Celebration 2000 at the Our Lady of the Gulf Community Center.

The Sisters of Mercy and the Our Lady Academy Alumnae Association inaugurated the Catherine McAuley Service Award to recognize those individuals who have made a significant contribution through their service to the growth and continued well-being of Our Lady Academy.

Beginning her 46th year as a professional educator in August, Benvenuti is known along the Mississippi Gulf Coast as one of the most outstanding educators in our area. "Her commitment to Catholic education is unequalled. Her devotion to Our Lady Academy and to her students is legendary," said Sister Donella Hartman, principal.

Starting at St. Joseph's Academy as a young teacher, Benvenuti has continued to touch the lives of children of all ages, at Bay Catholic Elementary, at Pearl River Junior college and at OLA.

Unknown to many, it was through her efforts that the present OLA is in existence. Together with a dedicated and determined group of parishioners and Monsignor Gregory Johnson, Benvenuti worked tirelessly to reopen a Catholic junior high school for girls in Bay St. Louis in 1971 - OLA as we know it today. St. Joseph's Academy had closed in the late 60's.

Benvenuti is perhaps most well-known for her English classes. Many young college freshmen, OLA graduates, have either sailed through freshman English or have skipped it altogether, thanks to "Nutti's" challenging grammar and literature classes.

Special guests honored Mrs. Benvenuti at the dinner: Mrs. Michael Haas, a friend; Finley Hewes, OLA faculty member; Nikki Chapman, former student and 1995 OLA graduate; Roxanne McCullough, 2000 graduating senior; and Father Peter Mockler, pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf.

Dr. Michael Ryan, former OLA principal, asked the blessing before the meal, and John Switzer, former OLA religious studies teacher, was the master of ceremonies.

The service award is named after Catherine McAuley, the foundress of the Sisters of Mercy, who completely dedicated herself to the service of others, especially women and children. During her life, she planted the seeds of love and service that have grown and blossomed into many ministries in the Catholic Church today. OLA is one of those ministries.

The service award itself is a Mercy Cross, one specially designed for the Sisters of Mercy. This year's award cross is the work of artist Joy Mehrtens, art teacher at OLA and friend of Benvenuti.

Feelin' Crabby?

Join the Crustacean Nation at the 16th Annual Our Lady of the Gulf Crab Festival, June 30-July 2

BY GEOFF BELCHER
News Editor

You won't need fireworks to make this Fourth-of-July weekend fun for the whole family -- grab the kids, the spouse and your appetite and head on over to Our Lady of the Gulf's 16th Annual Crab Festival.

"This year, we've expanded the program," Hancock County Circuit Clerk Pam Metzler, chairwoman for the event, said Friday. "We have constructed a new bandstand pavilion, added on to our existing buildings and completed handicapped-accessible bathrooms for men and women."

Last year, Metzler said, the Crab Fest drew more than 50,000 people. This year, they expect even more.

"The Crab Festival is getting larger every year," Metzler said. "It's now attracting people from all over the country. ... Yesterday, I got a call from a lady in Illinois who is coming, and another from someone in Texas."

The festival takes place at the Our Lady of the Gulf

Church grounds at 228 South Beach Blvd., Bay St. Louis, Friday, June 30-Sunday, July 2, and runs from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. each day.

Entertainment includes the following:

• Friday, June 30 -- Tim Gross & Blue Blazes, from 2-6 p.m.; and Keith Hoda Country Sounds, from 7-11 p.m.

• Saturday, July 1 -- Robert Cabella & The History of Rock & Roll, 1-4 p.m.; and Joe Matherne & The Sunshine Band, 7-11 p.m.

• Sunday, July 2 -- The Pat Murphy Band, 2-6 p.m.; and Dr. Rock and The Interns, 7-11 p.m.

Also on Sunday, the festival will include a $1,000 draw-down and mullet net raffle, beginning at 7 p.m.; and a $15,000 draw-down, beginning at 8 p.m.

Other attractions include "Kiddieland" rides; arts & crafts; plants and flowers; t-shirts and aprons; and a white elephant booth.

Lucille Luke, a long-time member of Our Lady of the Gulf Church and an avid gardener, will be among other parishioners at the festival selling flowers and plants they cultivated and potted in order to raise funds for the church.

"It centers around the family and children and just having a good time for the Fourth-of-July weekend. ... There's something for everybody at the Crab Festival."

-- Pam Metzler
Event chairwoman

Don't be shellfish -- there'll be plenty of crab specialties to go around Independence Day weekend at the 16th Annual Our Lady of the Gulf Crab Festival.

As at last year's event, Crab Festival will include far more than just crab dishes. Also on the menu for this year are crawfish etoufee, gumbo, jambalaya, crawfish fettucini, bronzed catfish, red beans & rice and shrimp po-boys.

Luke said last week that she grew more than 100 plants at her Bay St. Louis home for the sale, despite health problems that somewhat limited her participation in the fest this year.

"The boys will come with a truck and haul all of these down to the church for me, ..." Luke said. "I'm just glad I got the chance to help out. I love to work with plants and I love the church."

Of course, the main attraction at the Crab Festival is the food, which will be available each day of the festival beginning at noon.

This year's fare will include crab specialties such as stuffed crab, crab-stuffed potatoes, crab & shrimp biscuits, and fried crab claws; shrimp po-boys; crawfish etoufee and gumbo;

Gene Monti, the "Cotton Candy Man," will once again practice his art at the Our Lady of the Gulf Crab Festival.

"N'Awlins-style" food, such as red beans & rice, bronzed catfish, crawfish fettucini and jambalaya; along with perennial festival favorites like burgers, hot dogs, fried onion blooms, cotton candy, desserts, snowballs and popcorn.

"It centers around the family and children and just having a good time for the Fourth-of-July weekend," Metzler said. "There's something for everybody at the Crab Festival."

'Hard shell crabs are good eating, too'

(AUTHORS NOTE: There is a "secret" to the columns that I've written. They are at their best if they are read aloud to another person. Try it. You'll find both the person you read it to and yourself will enjoy them more. PEL)

I spoke last week about soft shell crabs. I didn't mean to downgrade hard shells, they're good eating, too.

At one time when Herb's pier was in fair shape, we would walk out to its end and put two or three crab pots down among the pilings. Usually we'd put them in late Friday and by Sunday noon we'd have a good catch for lunch. There'd be about eight to ten good size crabs and a bunch of smaller ones we'd throw back in.

We could even enjoy crabbing during the week and would get a few each evening. Stella would steam these and we would have them as appetizers to the meal.

Views From a Front Porch

by Paul Estronza La Violette
laviolet@mail.datasync.com

Most of the people here like to boil their crabs, seasoning them with a New Orleans-made spice called "Zatarain's." Many people have special propane gas burners for cooking crabs outside. They place large pots on these low set gas units and, bringing the water to a boil with the Zatarain's in it, dump the crabs in as needed for a crab boil in the back yard. You can throw in small potatoes or corn and make a real nice backyard feast. The unit is handy for a lot of other backyard events, including boiling crawfish and shrimp.

We prefer to steam our crabs the way they do around the Chesapeake Bay area, with lots of salt, a little bit of water, or beer, in the bottom of the pot, and use "Old Bay," a Baltimore seasoning, as zest. One of the advantages of this method is that very little water is needed, and the pot can be quickly heated to produce the required steam on a normal range inside the house.

This comes in handy when we have them during the week and the crabs can be cooked as part of the regular meal. Stella cracks and cleans them in the deep sink in the kitchen, throwing the shells into the garbage disposal. Then she serves them at the table as a sort of antipasto and there is very little mess.

We, of course, think our way is better. "Not as soggy," says Stella. But I'll eat crabs cooked either way with no complaints.

We don't crab using pots as much as we used to.

Herb's pier is gone except for a group of small pilings where the platform used to be. But that's not the real reason. There are more people living here now than before and we have more coming over on weekends. There are more people on the beach and wading in the water. When they come across our pots sitting by Herb's pilings, they poke at them or lift them and when we come to service the pots later, we find them upended or the crabs released. During the night, people steal the crabs, or worse, the pots themselves.

I'm sure they think of all this as a sort of prank -- after all, they're just crabs. But what they have taken from us is not the crabs, we can buy crabs at Bayou Caddy with less hassle. What they have taken is more precious but not as tangible: our enjoyment of being able to crab in front of our house when we feel like it. So, we don't crab as much as we used to.

When our grandchildren started coming down, we'd put a crab pot out for them. The two girls thought it was great fun. But it soon became apparent that people were messing with the pot at night and even during the day. We weren't catching any crabs.

We were a little frustrated. We didn't want to ruin the girls' time with us by standing and monitoring crab pots, yet the girls were obviously looking forward to catching some crabs. I had to do something.

Finally, I had an idea! I would "salt" the pot!

Without their knowing it, I would sneak off and buy a dozen or so crabs. Then when Stella got the girls in the back of the house with some excuse, I would go out and fill the crab pot full of crabs. The pot would be so full it would seem absurd, but then what would they know (and we needed at least a dozen for lunch)? Later, toward noon, we would send the girls out to check the pot and the screaming when they returned was delightful.

What was amazing was the time I put in twelve and they brought back fourteen.

REFLECTIONS ON LIFE

By Father Jerome
LeDoux, SVD

Are you conservative/liberal?

Labels have always been an interesting, intriguing and frequently hot topic of discussion. Very lazy, convenient and simplistic, they have a way of blinding intelligence, blocking common sense, and inflaming the least desirable displays of our passions.

Nowadays, two of the most discussed and most inflammatory of all labels are conservative and liberal. The two have an intellectual meaning, a political meaning, and a visceral, emotional meaning.

Epithets, insults, accusations, labels, characterizations, disparaging remarks, obscenities and sometimes undisguised curses routinely flay back and forth between dyed-in-the-wool liberals and conservatives. Neither devotee has time or respect for an opponent.

This often leads a reasonable, intelligent person to pursue an idea, issue or incident with a baffling degree of bias, prejudice or blindness. While one would not want to be caught dead with a liberal, another feels equally strong about being a bedfellow with a conservative.

More than any other area of life, politics is consumed with the bile spewed between conservatives, liberals, independents and others. White-hot on-air brawls crackle daily over the airwaves of radio and television, as political opposites jockey for a national opinion niche.

So caustic and alienating are many of these on-air, hot-air blowouts that they leave many of us gasping for breath and wondering whether there is any hope for true political common ground.

However, the largest arena of politics is not in the White House, a state capitol or a city hall, but right in the family, church and school.

Given the universal presence and practice of politics, should one be conservative, liberal, independent or eclectic? More to the point, especially where family and church are involved, would Jesus subscribe to being conservative, liberal, independent or eclectic?

We have every reason to believe Jesus would have knocked the dust off his hands and said: "A plague on all their houses!"

As a matter of scriptural record, we see Jesus the conservative, Jesus the liberal, Jesus the independent and eclectic bounce in and out of the Sermon on the Mount in Matthew 5:17:

"Do not think that I have come to abolish the law or the prophets. I have come not to abolish but to fulfill. Amen, I say to you, until Heaven and earth pass away, not the smallest letter or the smallest part of a letter will pass from the law, until all things have taken place."

That is almost as conservative as anyone can get, while serving only as the backdrop for the liberating, love-based teachings of Jesus. It reflects the ultimate conservatism of God whom we praise in various doxologies as "always was, is now, and ever shall be." The reason is that God cannot change, but simply is.

Neither conservative nor liberal describes God well, because God transcends both infinitely. One would have to speak in paradoxes to give an almost true picture of God, saying that God is conservative (cannot change) in being liberal, or that God is liberal (lavish) in being conservative and incapable of change.

Our problem, of course, is that we change often because of our mental limitations, our insecurity about just where we are at any given time, and our petty jealousies and envies which give rise to disgusting fickleness. In fact, our conservatism is often all about our fear of change.

No wonder a politician is sometimes described as a fiscal conservative, but a social liberal. As Paul, we must be all things to all people.

The "WORD" for the Week

Love requires renewal

After forty years of wondering and grumbling the people just didn't get it. After all the miracles in Egypt, the manna, and the quail from heaven, the people did not understand the grace of God. Moses gave the reason. "To this day the Lord has not given you a heart to know, nor eyes to see, nor ears to hear" (Deuteronomy 29:4).

Moses also gave this promise. "The Lord your God will circumcise your heart and the heart of your descendants, to love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul, so that you may live" (Deuteronomy 10:6). This promise is in keeping with the Great Commandment. "You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your might" (Deuteronomy 6:5).

The New Testament picture is the same. Jesus says, "If you love Me, you will keep My commandments" (John 14:15). The apostle John declares, "This is the love of God, that we keep His commandments" (1 John 5:3).

The apostle Paul says of fellow Christians, "The love of God has been poured out within our hearts through the Holy Spirit who was given to us" (Romans 5:5).

Hearts inclined toward the love of God require spiritual awakening and rebirth. This is why Jesus declares, "You must be born again" (John 3:7).

St. Stanislaus hosts camp

St. Stanislaus is presently hosting "Camp Stanislaus" through July 22. Ted Schmidt, a 1979 graduate of St. Stanislaus, is camp director and is working with 140 campers and 40 counselors throughout the six-week program.

Every boy participates in recreational activities including sailing, water skiing, marksmanship, swimming, horseback riding, fishing, water park and theme park adventures around the Gulf Coast, the mudslide, archery, and more. Each boy also participates in a daily two-hour academic program, which focuses on computer skills, mathematics, and reading.

St. Stanislaus is a Catholic residency and day school for young men in grades 6-12. The school fosters character formation and integrates faith development within a curriculum which is primarily college preparatory.

Summertime

Summertime means putting away the heavier clothing and looking forward to short sleeves and warmer weather. Some of the things that I enjoy about summer are the longer hours of daylight, washing my car in the backyard, cutting the grass, talking to the neighbors and just being outside enjoying the pleasant weather. The summer months can be sweltering at times, but, all and all, it usually is a pleasant time of the year. As one gets older, it seems that the summers get shorter. They say that time is relative, and the older we get, the faster time appears to go. Keeping this in mind, we should plan to enjoy all that the summer has to offer: go on some picnics; plan a few trips; go swimming; play some golf or tennis. The Bible tells us that everything that God has created is good; nothing is to be rejected, and everything is to be received with a prayer of thanks (1 Timothy 4:4). We thank God for summer, and for all the seasons of the year, and we ask His blessing and peace on all of us.

In the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, always give thanks for everything to God the Father.

Lynn Meadows Discovery Center salutes the military

Join the Lynn Meadows Discovery Center in saluting our Armed Forces at "A Patriotic Sunday Under the Oaks" on July 2, 3-6 p.m.

The Gulf Coast Community Band and the Seabee Color Guard will begin with a patriotic parade followed by a musical tribute to all branches of the service.

"Create Hip Hip Hooray hat to wear, play horseshoes and croquet, laugh with Bo Bo the Clown and decorate a watermelon," says Eva Jenkins, Lynn Meadows Discovery Center coordinator for the event.

"Bring a picnic supper to enjoy while the Coast Chorale and the LMDC Children's Chorus perform. Then, come sing, twirl, dance, pantomime or toot your own horn at our old-fashioned "All Star Talent Show".

"Solos, group acts, children and adults are welcome. What better way to celebrate our country's birthday," says Jenkins, "than to gather under our majestic oak trees with friends and family to enjoy patriotic music, fun and festivities."

The Lynn Meadows Discovery Center offers complimentary admission to military and veteran families. For information or to register for the talent show, call the Discovery Center at 897-6039 ext. 20.

MILLENNIUM MELTDOWN

Our Revolutionary "Herbal Bullet" Burns Ugly Fat & Flushes It Out Of Your Body!

Bathing Suit Season is only DAYS away. Don't panic about unsightly bulges. You can look trim & terrific quickly and safely. We guarantee it. Calorslim 2000, the miracle FAT BURNER & FAT FLUSHER, begins working the MOMENT you swallow your very first caplet. Bite the "Herbal Bullet" today... and watch pounds and inches melt away.

With Calorslim 2000, you can kiss your fat goodbye! And you don't have to starve yourself to be the slim, trim person you were meant to be. Keep up with the latest fashion trends as we enter the 21st century. Be healthy, vibrant, and slim for life. This wonder tablet is every dieter's dream solution to formerly unreachable goals: LOSE as much as 7 POUNDS THE FIRST 48 HOURS... 14 POUNDS (OR MORE!) THE VERY FIRST WEEK... and most amazing of all... reduce your waistline ONE FULL SIZE in the very first 10 days!

Direct from the weight loss center where patients CARVE AWAY as much as 70% of ALL EXCESS FAT IN JUST 19 DAYS, comes this proven crash-loss program that converts layers of bulging flab into figure slimming "tight-as-a-glove" flesh... so your entire body starts to grow THINNER, TRIMMER, FIRMER IN JUST 2 TO 4 DAYS!

A TRIAL SUPPLY WILL BE SENT TO ALL THOSE WHO WANT TO PARTICIPATE IN AMERICA'S LARGEST WEIGHT LOSS STUDY!

Now you have the opportunity to join over 40,000 other overweight men and women who have already started losing pounds by the day and inches by the week as they stop their body's fat producing mechanism right in its tracks. Even if you've been overweight for years, whether you're 10, 20, 30, 50, even 100 pounds overweight, now you will:

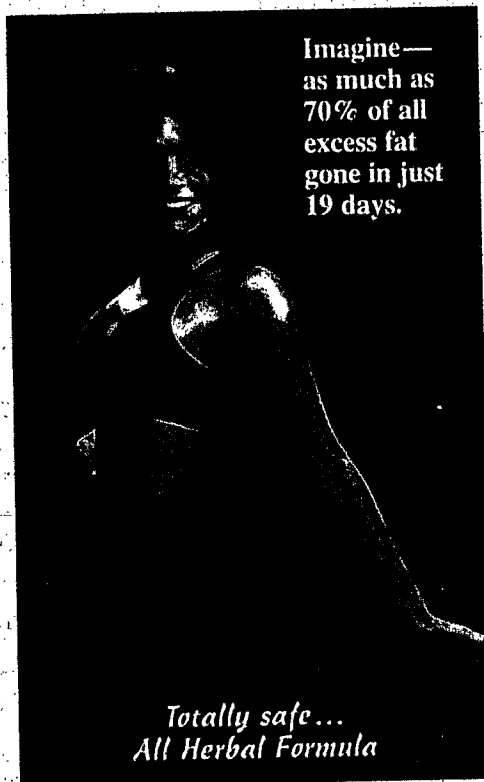

- LOSE up to 9 INCHES OFF YOUR WAISTLINE
- LOSE up to 10 INCHES OFF YOUR HIPS
- LOSE up to 4 INCHES OFF YOUR THIGHS
- LOSE up to 7 INCHES OFF YOUR STOMACH

ENJOY A LIFETIME OF SLIMNESS WITHOUT A MOMENT OF HUNGER... REVS UP YOUR INNER FURNACE TO PREVENT THE FOOD YOU EAT FROM TURNING INTO FAT

Yes, finally proof positive that you can safely "fire up" your metabolism throughout each day so that you'll actually burn 12 to 16 times more fat each day than a grueling regimen of:

- Running as much as 110 miles a week
- 2000 sit-ups & push-ups a day
- Or even as much as 12 hours of nonstop Marine Corps calisthenics

Small wonder that even "lifetime prisoners of fat" have melted away as much as 22 POUNDS IN JUST THE FIRST 7 DAYS... 44 POUNDS IN JUST A SINGLE MONTH... and as much as 108 POUNDS & 16 WAISTLINE INCHES. NOT EVEN TOTAL STARVATION CAN SLIM YOU DOWN & FIRM YOU UP THIS FAST—THIS SAFELY!

Totally safe...
All Herbal Formula

THIS REVOLUTIONARY "FAT-BURNING TABLET" MAKES YOUR SYSTEM CONVERT EVEN THE MOST STUBBORN BULGES OF FAT INTO WATER AND FLUSH THEM RIGHT OUT OF YOUR BODY!

MEDICAL FACT #1: In your body there exist natural fat-burner chemicals, so powerful, that when targeted against hard-set pockets of flab... they disintegrate... melt them down just like hot water melts down ice and flush them right out of your system.

MEDICAL FACT #2: In thin men and women (those "natural skinnies" who seem to eat all they want and never gain an ounce) this natural fat-to-water process is so effective it neutralizes the fat-building effect of all incoming calories... and stops these calories from turning to flab.

MEDICAL FACT #3: In overweight people, excess caloric intake simply overwhelms the body's natural fat destroying defenses... and allows the formation of bulging deposits of fat.

CONCLUSION: To slim people down ONCE AND FOR ALL... it is simply a matter of finding a MEDICALLY SAFE way to step up fat-burning metabolism by speeding up the flow of the body's own natural fat-burning chemicals... and AUTOMATICALLY TURN FAT INTO WATER AND FLUSH IT AWAY BY THE HOUR.

WITH THE SPEED AND DRAMATIC ENERGY OF A MATCH STRIKING A STONE SURFACE, THIS FOOL-PROOF FAT BURNER WAKES UP YOUR "SLEEPING METABOLISM"—AND FORCES YOUR BODY TO MELT DOWN FAT AND FLUSH IT RIGHT OUT OF YOUR SYSTEM!

You take Calorslim 2000 once a day. The breathtaking result? Your body becomes slim, trim, and fit for life. YOU BURN AWAY ALL THE CALORIES, IN ALL THE FOOD YOU TAKE IN, EVERY TIME YOU EAT and... almost instantly you begin to AUTOMATICALLY convert built-up fat into burned away energy. You'll melt away pounds by the hour... LOSE INCHES by the week.

Click on to our exciting website!
www.calorslim.com

NOW HERE'S HOW EASY IT IS FOR THOSE WHO ARE DETERMINED ONCE AND FOR ALL TO ACHIEVE THE LIFETIME FIGURE OF THEIR DREAMS.

STEP #1: YOU TAKE A TINY Calorslim 2000 TABLET EACH MORNING which launches your daily fat-burning spree... since it's time released you'll maintain the fat burn-off rate for a full 24 hours each day... even while you're asleep.

STEP #2: YOU EAT—MISS NO MEALS, NOT EVEN SNACKS as you enjoy all your favorite foods morning, noon and night plus 3, 4, even 5 snacks a day all scientifically programmed to maintain a NON-STOP FAT BURN-OFF 24 HOURS A DAY. You'll never experience a moment of hunger or be a slave to a tedious exercise regimen again.

STEP #3: YOU WEIGH AND MEASURE YOURSELF EACH WEEK... and be amazed at the crash loss results. Because, starting with your very first tablet your body begins to burn off excess fat from every problem area... waist, hips, thighs, and buttocks... melt away excess inches... turn all that ugly unwanted fat to water and flush it right out of your system. You are FINALLY on your way to the PERMANENT SLIM, TRIM FIGURE OF YOUR DREAMS!

Calorslim 2000 DOES NOT CONTAIN CAFFEINE, CAYENNE PEPPER, OR EPHEDRA. IT'S TOTALLY SAFE, YET EFFECTIVE—WITH NO SIDE EFFECTS.

Calorslim 2000 will not be available in retail stores until November 2000. However—as part of a national research test, if you respond to the toll free telephone number below and agree to tell us how many pounds and inches you lost and how fast you lost them, the Calorslim 2000 Research Project will send you a 30-day supply at the special research test price of $19.95.
